Relocatables To Be Built

Announcement was made in last week's Avalanche that the Crawford-AuSable School District, Counties of Crawford, Otsego and Kalkaska, had received permission from the Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $280,000 to purchase and equip a school building or buildings, develop and improve the site. The Crawford-AuSable School District plans to build a 13-unit relocatable classroom building next to the present Grayling High School to take care of the 7th and 8th grades and relieve present crowded conditions.

Faced with the prospect of half-day sessions for three or four years until a High School will be built, the Board of Education of the Crawford-AuSable School District decided to borrow money and put up relocatables to insure quality education until that time. Half-day sessions are being planned until the new building is ready for occupancy November 1st of this year.

A record enrollment of 1850 students is expected this fall, which will be an increase of 200 over the school year just ended. According to all enrollment projections the Crawford-AuSable District will have a total enrollment of 2300 students in five years, according to Superintendent Joseph Stripe.

Plans for a permanent building will be started as soon as the relocatables are under way. Money for the relocatables will come from the sale of bonds which have been approved by the Municipal Finance Commission. The bonds will be sold to the lowest bidder on July 13th and paid back over a 6-year period. It will take approximately 1 1/2 mills to retire the bonds.

State law permits a school district to issue bonds and put the district indebtedness up to 5% of its assessed valuation, and levy the millage to retire the bonds, without a vote of the people. This amounts in the present instance to $1,500,000, less any outstanding debt. Any larger indebtedness than the 5% formula must be voted upon.

Circuit Court Opens July 14

The July term of Circuit Court will open Tuesday, July 14, at 1:30 p.m., with the Hon. Robert H. Campbell, Circuit Judge of Clare presiding in the absence of Judge Dennis O'Keefe. Forty-two cases appear in the calendar for the July term, of which thirteen are criminal jury cases, seven are civil jury cases and twenty-two non-jury civil cases.

Of the criminal cases one is on breaking and entering; two are on breaking and entering plus arraignment; three are on breaking and entering plus arraignment; one hearing on motion; one preliminary examination; one appeal; one assault; one negligent homicide; and one possession of narcotics.

The jury civil cases list five auto negligences and two civil actions.

In the non-jury civil cases are eleven divorce actions; two restoration of driver's licenses; three U.R.E.S.A. cases; three civil actions; one injunction; one foreclosure; and one hearing on motion.

Petit jurors for the July term of court include Evelyn Allen, Ralph Sarraut, Harold Strouse, Richard Macque, Milo E. Westbrook, William C. Tufts, all of Frederic, Andrew Larsen Jr., Mark Anderson, Lucienne Miller, June Peterson and Richard Kreuzer, all of Roscommon, Emma Howse, Margrethe Nielson, Jack Wooley, Mary E. Walker, Nila Peterson, Diane Kent, Beverly Lourie, Wilson Gierke, Mary Baker, Sherrie Cole, Clarence Hayes, Harry Miller, Lawrence Trudeau, Louis J. Johnson and Lacey D. Stephan Jr., all of Grayling.

Cong. Cederberg's Aide Here Monday, July 13

On Monday, July 13 Congressman Cederberg's liaison man, Walter Nakula, will be at the County Courthouse in Grayling between the hours of 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. to confer with area residents who have comments on pending Federal legislation or facts on a problem they may have with an agency of the Federal government which they wish passed on to Congressman Cederberg for his information or appropriate action.

Mr. Cederberg requests that all important documents be brought along to assist in the prompt handling of all problems.

Grayling Mobile Estates Opened

Grayling Mobile Estates, located on the North Down River Road one mile east of Grayling, is a new 80-acre development which opened for business on July 4th, to provide an eventual 187 mobile home sites. The men responsible for the enterprise are Russ Covey and Louis Brandon of Edwardsburg, Mich. Mr. Covey has owned a lodge on the South Branch near Roscommon for several years and became acquainted with this area, saw the property and its possibilities. The two have a piece of ground at Edwardsburg with which they plan a similar set-up.

At the Grayling site besides the mobile home pads and patios, the development offers natural gas utilities, parks, year-around mobile home service, while a community building is planned, for which the pad is already poured, also hard-surfaced roads throughout, which will be dedicated to the county and maintained by it, a swimming pool and sauna bath.

The developers are also manufacturers of Hampton mobile homes, sell and distribute the double-wides of the Travelo brand from Saginaw, and the lower-priced Sylvan.

Public Notice

The Crawford County Senior Citizens are serving homemade strawberry shortcake and coffee from 12:00 Noon until 5:00 p.m. on July 16th at Ausagra Acres, for the purpose of raising money toward our bus fund. All donations will be appreciated. Bring your friends and meet new ones. Everyone invited.

FOURTH OF JULY HIGHLIGHTS — Despite inclement weather throughout the day, the Grayling Volunteer Fire Department's sponsored celebration here Saturday turned out a huge success. The day's activities began with a parade at noon and ended with a street dance following the fireworks at night. The above picture-rama is the work of Doug Morgan, as he followed the schedule of events with his camera.

Kirtland CC Expanding Rapidly

Almost a third of the students of the first graduating class at Kirtland Community College were honors graduates. Many of them have been awarded scholarships and will continue their education at four-year colleges and universities. Others developed skills in high demand in the employment market of the area and began new jobs.

These graduates represent an accomplishment Kirtland administrators like to talk about. The difficulties of carving an educational complex in a remote section of the "heart of Northern Lower Michigan" are rarely mentioned.

It was an optimistic beginning in October of 1968 as students reported for classes in five hastily installed portable buildings. The buildings were brought on campus after a statewide strike in the construction industry had delayed completion of the first campus structure.

Last minute cancellations of registrations due to uncertainty of classroom facilities brought the opening day enrollment figure down to 180. This included full-time and part-time students. As the building program went forward, and awareness of what was being done at Kirtland became known, the student body grew. In June of this year more than 400 were enrolled. During this period the number of courses available almost doubled.

Course offerings have been revamped and geared to meet the employment requirements of the area.

Local businessmen have contributed time and effort to serve on advisory boards and panels. They have brought practical, meaningful experience to the classroom. Other residents have contributed a wealth of knowledge gained in careers on state, national or international levels.

Apprentice programs designed to meet the needs of the north were started at Kirtland and were immediately in demand by local students. These courses, or classes, were not limited to campus classrooms. Some were set up in areas where student interest was highest and work opportunities most plentiful.

In an area where natural resources are a major economic contributor an internship training program in natural resources has attracted statewide interest and participation.

Building trades courses drew almost 70 students from 21 counties. As these classes grew in number and variety inquiries were received from as far away as Pontiac.

A law enforcement training program of 160 hours on-campus study was the first to be offered in this part of the state. (See Kirtland C. C. on page 9)

Little League

By Harry Miller

A three way race in the Major League?

That's exactly what we have, as the State Bank bounced the American Legion from 1st place, in action last week. Mark Hanson's 14 strikeouts and Larry Baynham's strong arm broke the Legion's back 10-3 and 9-4. Pat Smith of the Bear slugged the apple for 7-8. Brady of the Legion looked good on 3rd base.

The Moose running strong, trampled the Bear and came home with two victories 14-3 and 9-4. Rolfe and McClain winning hurlers with Roy Morrison and Steve Winger supplying the power and standouts in the field.

David Malinowski, Bear steady performer used the wood and was tremendous in the field.

Due to tourney time, no major league action for the next two weeks.

Go, Go, All Stars. See you in Alpena.

Luncheon-Style Show Set For July 30

The Miss Grayling Selection will take place at a luncheon-style show to be presented on Thursday, July 30th, 12:00 Noon, at the Chief Shoppenagon motor Hotel.

Styles will be presented by the Grayling Mercantile Company and the Northland Department Store — wigs will be shown by Marge's Beauty Shop.

The program is sponsored by the Pageant Committee of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. Tickets are available at $3.00 per person from the Chamber office. Please make your reservations early, as a capacity crowd is expected.

Meeting Notice

The Board of Education of the Crawford - AuSable School District plans to hold an organizational meeting on Monday, July 13, at the Grayling High School office. The time is 8 p.m.

For Multi-Purpose Center

Ausagra Acres Receives Grant

Funds totaling $9,100 were awarded to the Crawford County Multi-Purpose Center by the Michigan Commission on Aging at its June meeting.

This is the second year that the center, located in Ausagra Acres, a senior citizens housing project in Grayling, has received funds under Title III of the Older Americans Act.

The remainder of the project's $13,510 yearly budget is obtained from the Grayling Housing Commission.

Under the direction of Lora Gould, a coordinated county-wide information and referral service, a recreation and activities program, and arts and crafts classes were established for persons 55 years of age or older.

Older residents are also provided numerous services through the center including transportation, and an extensive educational program.

Through the Center, older people assist in numerous projects including preparing items for the Grayling Mercy Hospital, aiding with hearing tests for school children, and a friendly visitor program.

The Kent County Comprehensive Senior Citizens Service Project was funded for $53,353 — the largest grant awarded by the Commission.

Among its activities, the project coordinates the various community service agencies to meet the elderly's needs.

It has also helped establish and coordinate three multi-purpose centers which provide extensive educational, recreational and service programs for older people in the Grand Rapids Model Cities area.

Through its $32,554 grant, Operation Friendship of the Detroit Section, National Council of Jewish Women will continue its comprehensive rehabilitative program for former mental patients living in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland Counties.

Participants are given counseling, involvement in meaningful programs and assistance in obtaining help for physical health problems.

The Commission also approved two grants to the Institute of Gerontology, University of Michigan - Wayne State University.

The first for $15,738 will be used for a series of training seminars on Protecting the Elderly for personnel in agencies providing services to older people in Michigan.

The second $4,509 grant will be used to continue a series of social gerontology seminars to train faculty members of Michigan's colleges and universities and to assist them in developing training programs in aging at their respective institutions.

The Commission also approved a $7,320 grant to the Utica Community Schools. The program (See Receives Grant on page 12)

Picked Up On Dope Charge

On July 2, the City Police arrested Reed C. Larkin, 18, of Grayling on a charge of possession of narcotics.

He will appear in 33rd District Court, Thursday, July 9, 1970.

Bond was set at $1500, as yet unpaid, and suspect is presently in Crawford County jail according to Chief Hatfield.

TURN DOWN ZONING

The Appeals Board of the Grayling Zoning Commission turned down a plan of rezoning a portion of Roffee's Addition from residential to commercial, at a meeting held Monday evening at the city council chambers.

W. O. Hildebrand had presented a plan for a professional office building to be built on the site, which is presently zoned R-1.

Following discussion and objection from 18 residents in the neighborhood, the appeals board voted 3 to 1, with one member absent, to turn down the request of Mr. Hildebrand.

The property in question is located on County Road and Vine and Erie Streets.

TRAIL RIDERS — Nearly 90 members of the Michigan Trail Riders Association passed through Grayling recently, on their way from Empire to Tawas City on the Horse-Hiking Trail that crosses the northern lower peninsula. The riders spent two weeks on the trail. In the photo above, Mayor Derek McEvers presents, Bear Garne, of Traverse City, president of the Michigan Association, and trailboss of the ride, with a Bear Archery Trophy Bow in remembrance of their passing through Grayling.

Wedge-Cherry Exchange Vows

Karen Sue Wedge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wedge, Sr. of Grayling and Robert Alan Cherry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cherry, Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio, were united in marriage on Saturday, June 13, at Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church. The two o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Frederick before 150 guests.

Debbie Nethers was the organist. "One Hand, One Heart" was sung by Patricia Christian and Rev. Frederick sang "The Lord's Prayer." The processional was "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of organza featuring an empire waist, which was enhanced by dainty venise lace with pink satin ribbon pull through, Bishop sleeves, wedding ring collar, softly belled skirt and a long tunnel train. She wore a bonnet type headpiece with soft, flowing fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of daisies, babies breath and baby pink roses.

Her attendants were Libby Kipp, who served as maid of honor, Ann Cherry of Cleveland, Ohio, Sheryl Daines of Ann Arbor and Sue Shelley of Dearborn. Their gowns were similar in style to the brides and were fashioned of sheer white cotton and with pink stripe and pink daisy print over pink taffeta.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wedge chose a dress of aqua crepe with chiffon sleeves and collar and matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a yellow dress with yellow lace trim and sleeves, with matching accessories, for her son's wedding.

Out of town guests were from New Port Richey, Fla.; Cleveland, Ohio; St. Petersburg, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Detroit, St. Charles, Muskegon, Lansing, Dearborn, Farmington, Livonia, Alpena and Ann Arbor.

Social Security Benefits Amount to $90,000 a Month in Crawford Co.

Social Security benefits paid to residents of Crawford County totaled $90,000 a month as 1969 ended, E. O. Wiles, social security district manager, reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on December 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 percent for the 1016 social security beneficiaries in Crawford County, Wiles noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Crawford County, 648 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 240 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 114 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Wiles pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under 60.

In the State of Michigan, 223,203 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 125,844 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 19,704 who are 18 thru 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 age group, Wiles said are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to go to work and become self supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

The latest figures for Medicare reimbursement in Crawford County show that 658 beneficiaries received $132,448. The total annual Social Security and Medicare payments combined amounted to $1,232,448.

Grayling Girl Receives BS Degree at Ferris

Big Rapids, Mich. — Degrees and certificates were granted to 1,712 students at commencement exercises at Ferris State College Sunday, June 14.

The graduates included students who had completed their programs of study in the summer, fall and winter terms, as well as in the spring quarter.

Giving the commencement address was Ferris President Victor F. Spatich, who was participating in his last Ferris commencement as college president. Dr. Spatich has announced his retirement effective December 15. An honorary Doctor of Laws degree was presented to William R. (Will) Muller, Political writer for the Detroit News, a Ferris alumnus.

Approximately 7,000 persons attended the event held in the Health and Physical Education Building because weather conditions did not permit an outdoor ceremony.

Among those receiving degrees and certificates was Sharon R. Jeffery, daughter of the Owen Jefferys of Grayling, who received a B. S. degree in Secretarial Studies.

TREE HOUSE

There is joy in the tree house nestled high in the boughs . . . for the boys climbing up to play in it . . . for the adults remembering the golden afternoons of their own childhood.

Sometimes grownups say wistfully, "I wish I were that age again." But do they really wish it? Being a child is wonderful, but maturing can be a painful process.

Help your children enjoy the precious childhood hours — never forgetting that they must grow up. Remember you have a never-ending source of guidance. The church will help your children preserve the spirit of youth and give them the wisdom, courage and faith that will sustain them through the rest of their lives.

Irreplaceable National Asset

In this age of guaranteed security, it is well to be reminded that for one group of citizens the words have little meaning. These are the millions of investors whose earnings and assets have been jeopardized by inflation. There are no government programs to bail them out, and they are not asking for any. They have faith in the country's ability to weather economic adversity and go on to brighter times.

Mr. J. Paul Getty, one of the world's richest men, has some good advice for young businessmen that applies in many respects to everyone else. Among the points he makes: "No matter what happens, do not panic. . . . When things go wrong, it is always a wise idea to pull back temporarily. . . . In the opening stages of any developing adverse situation, it may be necessary and advisable to give some ground, to sacrifice those things which are the least important and most expendable. But it should be a fighting withdrawal. . . . All available resources — cerebral as well as financial, creative as well as practical — must be marshalled. Counter moves must be planned. . . . Once everything is ready, action should be taken confidently, purposefully, aggressively—and above all, enthusiastically. . . ."

These words of advice represent the spirit of the builders of great industries, as well as of the investors and the savers who are the foundation of the nation's productive effort. In a very real sense, they are an irreplaceable national asset.

"Did You Know?" asks Commerce magazine, "For every thousand requests to a large missing persons tracing agency to locate a missing husband, it receives only four requests to locate a missing wife? Do fewer wives run away, or do husbands of missing wives care less than wives of missing husbands?"

Miss Michigan Winter Sports In Top Ten at Miss Michigan Pageant

By Wayne W. Clark

Miss Vicky Dee Thompson, Miss Michigan Winter Sports competition last Thursday at the Miss Michigan Pageant in Muskegon. She also made the top ten semi-finalists and missed by a narrow margin making the five finalists circle.

Miss Ann Arbor, Ginger Ann Meyer, won the coveted title of Miss Michigan 1970, and will go on to represent Michigan at the Miss America Pageant next September.

Since the Miss Michigan Winter Sports Pageant became a Miss Michigan - Miss America franchised pageant, all titleholders have finished near the top at the State Finals.

In 1968, Dolly Luft, now Mrs. Robert Abbey of Traverse City, was the first to carry the Miss Michigan Winter Sports banner to the Miss Michigan Pageant.

Next Mary Lou Paxton, now Mrs. Thomas Allen of Ozark, Ala., was named 1st runner-up to Miss Michigan of 1967. She was followed in 1968 by Mary Lou Sweig, now Mrs. Thomas Spain of Bay City, who was named the 3rd runner-up. Next Sharon Kiebler was named 2nd runner-up to Miss Michigan 1969; with Vicky Thompson winning competition for 1970.

Around pageant committees around the State can boast this record of the Pageant Committee of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. Although they have not as yet come up with the top winner at the State Finals; few, if any, can equal their record of consistently coming up with near-the-top winners.

SOLID VINYL SIDING

by Mastic Corporation

Why homeowners call it the one siding material that measures up to every beauty and maintenance-free requirement of the PERFECT siding:

- ☐ Does not dent like metal—high-impact resistance.
- ☐ Never needs paint—durability is built in, not painted on.
- ☐ Solid color clear through—40 times thicker than a coat of paint.
- ☐ Marks, scars, abrasions don't show.
- ☐ Does not absorb or retain moisture like wood, or sweat like metal.
- ☐ Does not peel, flake, corrode, or rust.
- ☐ Easy to clean—with sponge and soapy water, or simply hose down.
- ☐ Safe from fire—does not support combustion.
- ☐ Safe from lightning—does not conduct or attract electricity.
- ☐ Resists damaging effects of acids, salt water, sun, rain, oil, etc.
- ☐ Insulates against cold or heat.
- ☐ Muffles outside noises—assures a quieter, more livable home.
- ☐ Goes on easily over wood, asbestos, stucco, or masonry walls.
- ☐ Completely covers split, warped, faded or peeled outside walls.
- ☐ Stays beautiful wherever you live.

Did You Hear The Latest Polish Joke?

I haven't seen much mention of it in the daily press, or on network television, but a federal agency recently handed down a decision that promises to have considerable impact on most Americans—if the implications of the decision are carried to their logical conclusions.

A short while back, the Associated Press reported from Washington the following information:

"Telling Polish jokes around the shop when there are Polish employees present is a violation of the Civil Rights Act, says the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission," the story begins.

"Under a recent commission ruling, employers who permit such practices are violating the act's ban against discrimination on the basis of national origin."

The case involved a steel mill worker, who since 1965 has been the butt of Polish jokes by other shop workers, the commission said.

The Pole's tormenters, the agency said, also "laced other witticisms with vulgar 'Polish' names and generally derogatory remarks about his ancestry."

So the federal government has spoken again... at least, one agency of the federal government has spoken.

It is now illegal to tell Polish jokes; whether this ban on Polish jokes means you can't tell them to Poles or that you can't tell them at all really isn't clear.

Supposedly, if the logic is extended, you can't tell Hollander jokes in Grand Rapids, or Finnish jokes in the Upper Peninsula, or German jokes in Westphalia. The jokes are all the same; only the dialect is changed to fit the occasion.

Presumably you also can't tell the old fashioned "little moroh" jokes to stupid people, either; these are the same jokes as the Polish-Finnish-Hollander jokes, of course, only given an ethnic flavor in recent years.

But continue with the logic of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission for a bit.

It would seem to put out of business such stand-up comics as Myron Cohen or Sam Levenson or Milton Berle (or Sammy Davis, maybe?) who thrive on Yiddish jokes.

Flip Wilson, or Moms Mabley, or even Bill Cosby—who find and expose some of the humorous frailties of Negroes, real or imagined—are on thin ice; and just what does that do for equal opportunity?

And what about all the Pat and Mike jokes, can the Irish build a case? And can ministers and priests and rabbis prosecute for jokes with a clerical twist?

And in today's wave of militant feminism, can the ladies throw in jail anybody who pokes fun at womanhood?

Extend this type of legal reasoning on a broader social level for a moment. Does the peddler profession have legal recourse because of all the traveling salesman stories and the possible harm they have done to the vocation?

How can Alan King stay in business, poking fun at suburban living the way he does? Do the fathers of this country have a case against those who perpetrate Hee Haw on the public—at least the handful of farmers who disagree with the caricatures of agro-businessmen thus represented?

It seems to me this federal ruling is just another link in an insidious chain of events. Frito Bandito has come under attack. So has the Dodge sheriff. And Jose Jimenez has been put to rest.

Now the Polish joke is illegal, and an agency of the United States government has put the finger on the employer-of all people—to see that Polish jokes are not in his place of employment. The next step may well be to require the employer to take out anti-laugh insurance.

America certainly is in trouble. Riots, demonstrations, bayonets and bullets on college campuses, bank fronts being bombed, the nation split on our international involvements, drug, promiscuity, nudity on stage and screen, filthy books, rampant crime—you name the trouble, America has it.

One reason may be we're losing our sense of humor. We're forgetting how to laugh.

They don't have to outlaw jokes; it's getting so there's nothing to laugh about anymore anyway.

SPACE and AERONAUTICS

AIR POLLUTION

WASHINGTON—It's not generally known but the hard fact is that NASA is very much involved in aeronautics research. That first A in NASA stands for aeronautics as you can see when we spell out National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It's not all astronauts, satellites, spacecraft and rockets way out yonder. Much of NASA's work is gutsy, down-to-earth stuff like air pollution for instance. This hardly seems a proper role for an agency with its eyes on the stars, but it is a proper role indeed for the space agency to be involved in the fight against pollution.

So when Indiana Congressman Richard L. Roudsbush asked NASA officials recently what exactly is NASA doing on scientific research into control of pollution, specifically not soot, but the invisible pollution from aircraft that he understood is the dangerous pollution for man, he wasn't at all surprised to learn that NASA had at least a dozen anti-air pollution research projects underway. Furthermore, these do not all relate to aircraft; some relate to automobiles.

Much of the work is in the study phase, like that going on for NASA at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass. There they are studying the motion of smoke and nitric oxide formation under conditions typically found in aircraft turbine combustion engines. NASA has $50,000 invested in this study alone.

In another study valued at $300,000, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is using NASA's expertise in high temperature materials. This knowledge is being applied to the development of a thermal reactor to be attached to an automobile in place of the exhaust manifold.

NASA has spread its research in anti-air pollution widely across the country, with universities, industry and NASA-owned and operated laboratories all having a piece of the action. As we go to press there are some $750,000 worth of studies going on in this area.

Basic to the entire problem of air-pollution from aircraft is the general trend towards higher flight speeds, which means higher temperatures and higher pressure ratios in the engines. Smoking tendency is made worse by an increase in pressure. What NASA seeks in its research is a marked improvement in aircraft engine performance that will yield a reduction in air pollution, while increasing the operating life of the combustors due to less heat and smoke.

If we get an engine that gives off less smoke, why not going on for NASA at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass. There they are studying the motion of smoke and

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance, 277 Park Ave., N. Y., N. Y., 10017

Q. Our 20-year old son is about to enter the Army. Recently when someone mentioned he was now eligible for Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, we didn't know what they were talking about. We took out a $10,000 life insurance policy on him at his birth and haven't thought any more about his coverage since then. Could you tell us how this group program works and if he is still covered when he gets out of military service?

A. The program, which is underwritten by private life insurance companies by arrangement with the Veterans Administration, provides $10,000 of term insurance on every man and woman in the Armed Services. Cost of the policy is $2 a month which is deducted from his pay. The person is covered as long as he serves on active duty, and for 120 days after discharge. During this latter period, the policy can be converted, at standard premium rates based on age to a permanent individual policy with any insurance company participating in SGLI, even though under ordinary circumstances the veteran may be uninsurable. The low monthly cost of SGLI reflects the young age and above-average health of servicemen, and the fact that the government absorbs part of the program's costs. Incidentally, the servicemen need not carry the insurance, or he can carry only $5,000 of it, if he wishes. The Dept. of Defense advises that the low cost of SGLI is not a "temptation to cancel or reduce any other life insurance," but "regard it as a very inexpensive supplement to other policies."

People like to put off buying life insurance until tomorrow. But somehow tomorrow never comes. So we're cancelling tomorrow. Cancelling it because now life insurance is priced so incredibly low that you won't have to put it off until tomorrow. You can buy it now. Right now. Its name:

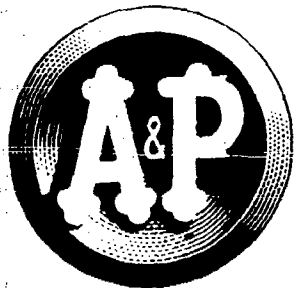

AMMO DUMP . . . A soldier from C. Company, 1st Battalion, 5th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division (airborne) breaks open a crate of enemy supplies and discovers that the bunker is a recoilless rifle ammunition point. The ammunition was captured in Cambodia in a North Vietnam complex called "The City."

75 Snug Harbors

Any sailor who ventures onto Great Lakes waters will find that Michigan now has about 75 protected harbors or refuges with recreational boating facilities already constructed or under development. These harbors, typified by the one at Traverse City pictured above, literally dot this state's Great Lakes shoreline as shown on this map. They are spaced on a rough pattern of about one every 30 miles. This means that insofar as this system of refuge points has been developed, no coastwise boater will ever be more than 15 miles from the safety of a harbor. In many cases, the distance is much shorter. Thus, Michigan has a pattern of boater safety and convenience along its Great Lakes coast which is unparalleled in North America. Spearheading the program is and has been the Michigan Waterways Commission, now part of the Department of Natural Resources. It plays a lead role in pooling state, federal and local funds in an effort to expand the network of harbors in step with boater needs. The Commission provides the State's share of the program costs by channeling funds to local units of government which are derived from 1.5 percent of Michigan's total annual gasoline tax revenues. Drawing from this source, representing money paid by recreational boaters for their purchases of marine fuel, the Commission this year is plowing $4.2 million in state funds into harbor development projects. Boaters may see where their money has gone over past years by writing for free guidebooks listing these facilities. They should address their requests to: Harbors Guide, Waterways Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Lansing, Michigan 48926.

Louis K. Cramton
Republican Candidate
For State Representative

TO THE VOTERS
OF THE 103rd DISTRICT . . .

ON EDUCATION

You and I share a deep concern for the quality of education available to our children in Michigan and the means by which we finance it.

I favor removal of the school operational costs from the property tax — to the broader base of the state income tax. It would be fairer, linked more directly to ability to pay, provide more certain funding, and would go a long way toward softening the rebellious feeling of many taxpayers that is evident in the rough going of millage elections in every part of the state. This can, and must, be done without losing more of our local control to Lansing.

Not only do I prefer such tax restructuring — I am committed to work for it, if elected.

The Civic Responsibility Committee of the Midland City Education Association, after comprehensive interviews, endorsed my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Representative from the 103rd Legislative District, saying: ". . . Crawford's philosophy and feeling for education exhibited genuineness that engendered the confidence of the Committee . . . his experience would make him best able to step in and be effective . . . the Committee feels Lou Cramton should be supported actively and elected . . ."

I am proud of that endorsement "from teachers who know me best," . . . and I am proud, too, to have the active support of school board members, past school board members, school administrators and other citizens who have been part of the continuing struggle to provide, the best possible education.

I ask you to join with them in actively supporting my campaign to win the Republican nomination for your State Representative on August 4.

Sincerely,
Louis K. Cramton

Radio Station Erects Tower Here

7 Crawford County Avalanche
Thursday, July 9, 1970

The new flashing light in the sky west of town isn't a UFO... it's the beacon light atop Grayling Broadcasting Company's new radio tower.

The new radio station, WGRY, under construction since April, took a giant step forward on June 30 by erecting the final 56 feet of the 190 foot AM radio tower.

Jim Marr, Vice President and Chief Engineer, has been supervising construction of the radio tower, which was installed by Grant Tower Company, of Grant, Mich.

It will be another month or so before WGRY can begin regular operations. Many technical tests must be run for the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in Washington, D.C. before final approval is given to the station to go ahead.

WGRY will operate on 1590 kilocycles with 1,000 watts from the studio and transmitter site located at 6514 Old Lake Road and the station will be heard throughout Crawford County.

President of the company is Jim Sylvester. The station's phone number is 348-6181.

SALON #542 - 8/40 MEMBERS hold election here. Twelve Partners of Salem #562, 8/40 met at the local Legion Hall on Thursday, June 25th. Partners from West Branch, St. Helen and Grayling enjoyed the fun and fellowship after the election of officers. Elected were: La Petit Chapeau (president), Beryl Moore, Grayling; La Concierge (1st vice), Martha McIntyre, West Branch; La Deuxieme (2nd vice), Phyllis Scheer, Grayling; L'Aumonier (chaplain), Margaret Steckling, St. Helen; La Chaisiere (historian), Goldie Moore, Grayling; La Calisiere (treasurer), Flossie David, West Branch; La Concierge (Sgt. at Arms), Helen Strong, West Branch; La Secretaire (secretary) Geraldine Muth, Grayling. All the Partners brought special hats for fun. These were very colorful and were judged by two friends (men). Pictures of the winner and partners were taken and the dessert lunch was served by the Partners of Grayling.

Housing Needs Improvement
Nearly 1.4 million Michiganders live in housing that is either "poor" or "very poor," according to a report drawn up by the Michigan Housing Authority.

This includes more than 500,000 persons who live in homes that are "dilapidated and ruined or close to ruin," the report said. The federally funded report concluded that Michigan should "set a policy and begin an active program of funding, designing and helping develop new housing" for the 431,000 families involved.

It was issued through the Governor's office the same day Gov. William G. Milliken signed into law a bill increasing the bonding limit of the State Housing Development Authority from $50 million to $300 million.

The authority uses money raised by issuing bonds to construct housing for low and middle income families who cannot afford to construct a home on their own.

Milliken had pushed the increase in bonding capacity as one of his major legislative proposals this year. He said its passage "will provide badly needed homes and additional jobs for Michigan residents as these homes are built."

The report said only 2 per cent of those living in substandard housing have the ability at present to purchase adequate housing "without some form of government assisted financing and/or subsidy."

The report said estimates for the next five years show new residential construction will range from a low of 60,500 per year to a high of 121,000 per year.

As a result, he continued, "current new construction is not keeping up with new family formation, nor is it affecting to any degree that part of the market in poor housing."

It said the new housing which is being built "is not affecting low and moderate income families nor minority groups."

"Every major trend examined shows new residential construction is not keeping pace with the rate of decay, nor keeping up with the number of new families being formed," he said. "In short, the basic trends are not only unfavorable, the programs to date have not changed the pattern."

Bayonets Out

Michigan National Guardsmen are training this summer to use riot sticks instead of guns with bayonets in riot situations.

The 36-inch long ash nightsticks, or batons as guard officials call them, are a new addition to the guard's weaponry. They were brought into use at the order of Gov. William G. Milliken after four students died from National Guard bullets at Kent State University.

"Batons are more credible than bayonets in a crowd," explains Brigadier General Floyd W. Radtke, who is in charge of the training.

"A crowd knows you aren't going to really use a bayonet and the guardsmen know it too," he said. "I'm sure there's never been a person impaired during the history of the Michigan Guard. But the men will use a baton and this means something to a crowd of people."

Radtke was trained to use the baton by the State Police. He directed the training of guard officers early in June and the officers now are training their own units.

He said it is not difficult to learn to use the baton because the basic holds and command positions are the same as with a bayonet.

"It would probably take half an hour to learn how to use them," he said.

Must Leave Law

In addition to the new weapons being used by the guard, Milliken and the Legislature also have put on the lawbooks a new law aimed at helping control campus violence.

The new law makes it a misdemeanor for students and non-students alike to refuse to leave a university when ordered to vacate by an administration official.

"This is a clear indication of the Legislature's intention to end the disruption and destruction of property that has occurred on our university campuses," Milliken said.

Try a Printanier salad. Line individual salad bowls with leaf lettuce; add chilled mixed vegetables tossed with Italian dressing. Garnish with chopped pimiento.

For candied orange slices, cut 1 small orange into thin slices. Place in single layer on waxed paper; sprinkle with 1/4 cup sugar. Let stand 30 minutes. Turn, repeat. Serves 4.

Salad: Parisienne combines 2 cups cooked vegetables and 1 cup cubed cooked meat with 1/2 cup salad greens. Toss with 1/2 cup oil and vinegar dressing. Garnish with 1 hard-cooked egg, diced. Serves 4.

Letters To The Editor

On behalf of the Pageant Committee of the Miss Grayling Pageant, we wish to extend our appreciation to Patricia Christian, Miss Grayling 1970, for her fine performances at the National Trout Festival Pageant and the National Cherry Festival Pageant. Crawford County is indeed proud to have had Patricia represent us in such grand style. We shall never forget her!

Also to be commended for her services is Mrs. Ralph (Nancy) Hoffman who was Patricia's official accompanist. She devoted many hours and miles to assisting Patricia during this past year. Nancy, for your many services now and as a past Miss Grayling, we thank you.

School Board
Minutes

June 8, 1970

The meeting was called to order by President Henig with all present. The minutes of the May meeting were read and explained to those absent at the May meeting.

Dr. Henig recommended that the board seriously consider retaining legal counsel at the local level; to be discussed at the next meeting.

The request to distribute Gideon Bibles to students on school property was denied. A copy of a letter to Mr. Miles from the State was read by Mr. Stripe in regard to the Beaver Island school forest property. A legal decision was requested. A certificate of equivalency for Mr. Melvin Harcourt was signed by Sec. Fowler and Pres. Henig.

The letter to teachers outlining the tentative 1970-71 program was read to the board. Madill, Fowler, and Burns will study the specifications of the Holiday and National Homes relocatable class rooms and present the findings to the board for a decision.

Smock moved to carry out student insurance with Mr. Thompson, seconded by Harwood. Carried by six ayes, one abstaining.

The new teachers hired are: Ted Carlson, Andrew Cook, Robert Woodland, Bonnie Bickle and Kathleen McCall. Mr. Dean discussed his interviews with applicants for the position of high school principal. The decision was left with the administration.

With Messrs. Stripe and Dean excused, the board discussed and set the 1970-71 administration salaries. The board then approved the bid for repair to the main garage roof. Invoices were approved for payment. Harwood and Kolka moved to adjourn. Adjourned at 10:15.

At a special meeting June 29 with all members present we voted to contract with Holiday Inns of America to erect a 13 classroom relocatable complex on the high school property at the corner of Chestnut and Ottawa. We look forward to being in the complex for the second period of the first semester.

Secretary: Patricia Fowler

The marriage of Hannah Ma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kroll, formerly of Grayling, and the groom, Dr. Fred Shure, 1127 Brooks Road, Ann Arbor, took place at 1 p.m. June 27, 1970, at the home of the groom's brother, Dr. Fred Shure, 1127 Brooks Road, Ann Arbor.

Hannah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kroll, formerly of Grayling, and the granddaughter of the Fred Bears, Grayling. She attended Grayling High School and graduated from Ferry Hall at Lake Forest, Ill. before enrolling at the University of Michigan and later at Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti where she majored in Art.

Ned is the son of Dr. and the late Mrs. Harry L. Shure, New York City. He graduated from Music and Arts High School in New York and attended CNU before coming to the University of Michigan.

More than a hundred guests witnessed the marriage which was celebrated under a bower of wild flowers in the spacious grounds of the Shure home. The Reverend Colin Campbell, first vicar of St. Francis Episcopal Church, Grayling, and presently priest in charge at St. Claire's, Ann Arbor, officiated at the service, parts of which the young couple wrote themselves. The ancient custom of sharing sweet and sour wine with the guests, symbolizing the sweetness and bitterness of life, was used. Christopher Kroll, brother of the bride and little Stephan Shure, nephew of the groom, passed the wine which was served in antique family goblets.

Preceding the ceremony Walter Paul of Ann Arbor sang "Up Is A Good Place To Be," accompanying himself on the guitar. As he changed tempo for Lohengrin's Wedding March the wedding party moved to the flower decked arbor.

The couple was attended by Mary Lee Bartman, former classmate of the bride and Dr. Fred Shure, brother of the groom.

The bride's white empire style gown of pleated chiffon with full, pleated long sleeves, was trimmed at the deep square neckline and cuffs with bands of beaded embroidery. She wore a garland of white flowers and Baby's Breath on her shoulder length hair. Her matching bouquet included red roses. Miss Bartman wore a short knit lace dress in wisteria and wore white roses in her hair.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. T-shaped buffet tables were placed in both front and rear gardens and small tables covered with white cloths and centered with bowls of daisies and pink roses, were scattered about the grounds. A group of musicians, friends of the young couple, furnished music for dancing during the afternoon.

Guests attending from Grayling included Mrs. B. E. Henig, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Knibbs. There were guests also from Gaylord, Midland, Flint, Lansing, Fort Wayne, Chicago and New York.

The young marrieds are spending two weeks honeymoon in the West Indies. They will live in Ann Arbor where the groom is in business.

Lt. Skolaski Receives A. F. Silver Wings

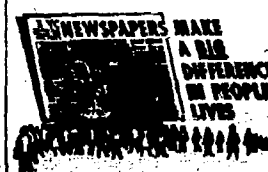

SEIMA, ALA. — Second Lieutenant Robert A. Skolasky, son of Mrs. Stella Skolasky, 6533, King's Road, Grayling, has been awarded U. S. Air Force silver pilot wings upon graduation at Craig AFB, Ala.

Lieutenant Skolasky, a 1965 graduate of Grayling High School, received his B. A. degree in geology in 1969 from St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn.

Four From Here On Ferris Honors List

Ferris State College has honored 1,274 students for scholastic excellence in the Spring Quarter by naming them to the Academic Honors List. Announcement was made by Dr. Robert L. Huxol, vice president for instruction.

To be named to the Academic Honors List a student must maintain at least a B average while carrying a full academic load. Students from Grayling so honored are Linda M. Christian, in Teacher Education; John A. Engel, Technical and Applied Arts; William D. Gould, Pharmacy; and David E. Nielson, General Education.

All graduates of the school of cosmetology have been employed by local business. According to one state education official, Kirtland is believed to be the only school with one hundred percent placement of all graduates in this field.

All students in the real estate program have passed the state examination.

Much work has gone into the development of an aviation program. This is being undertaken with the cooperation of the City of Grayling and is expected to be underway in the future.

Adult education courses have been designed to improve skills, encourage adult participation and provide needed credit hours toward degrees. Some are offered merely for mental stimulation.

Senior citizens are encouraged to visit and participate in Kirtland activities.

During the summer months COOR Intermediate School District will be using school facilities for classes for in-service teachers.

The Kirtland library has been developed under the direction of William E. Studwell. It now contains 22,000 volumes. When the learning center building is completed this fall 70,000 volumes are expected to be housed there.

A college work-study program makes it possible for many students who could not afford to finance the entire cost of their education to attend Kirtland. Funds for this program are supplied by outright grants.

Money has come to the college from many sources in addition to that contributed by local taxpayers. Much of the equipment and machinery used in the vocational and technology programs is on loan from the defense department. A portion of the salary of instructors in these fields is paid by the state of Michigan.

These aids have been made available to encourage training in most needed skills. The high unemployment rate in the areas served by Kirtland has emphasized the need to prepare students to earn a living at jobs which exist here.

Another result of this concentration on skills education has been the interest shown by business and industry. Firms which plan to expand or relocate are attracted by a source of well trained personnel.

Many students in these training programs were employed part-time while attending Kirtland. As soon as their training was completed permanent employment was available.

Some Kirtland instructors have received national recognition. Three of them were selected to participate in summer programs offered by three different institutions.

Stanley Evers, instructor of electro-technology, was invited to attend a Leadership Conference in this field at the University of Michigan. He was one of twenty candidates selected from a field of 400.

Maurice Moses, instructor of physics and mathematics, and an honors graduate of the University of London, will spend the summer at Clarkson College of Technology, in Potsdam, New York. He was selected from about 500 candidates.

James W. Garlo, instructor of mathematics, is one of two persons selected from Michigan to attend Vanderbilt University, in Tennessee.

Wayne F. Krueger, Dean of Occupational Studies, will continue work on a doctorate at Florida East Coast University this summer.

In October, 1968, ten classrooms in portable buildings were available on campus. Auto mechanics was taught in a garage in the Village of Roscommon. Art was taught in the instructor's home.

The hoes, rakes and shovels used by college personnel in those days have been replaced. Snow removal equipment, a stake truck and a flat bed trailer are now owned by the college.

In the beginning equipment and supplies were stored in empty buildings, garages and barns. There is some storage space available now. This eliminates the moving of equipment from place to place until it could be located permanently.

If, as one administrator said, "flexibility is the greatest asset of a community college," Kirtland students, faculty, and administrators have had an opportunity to develop this ability to a high degree.

The campus will remain open all summer. College personnel will be available from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily for the convenience of potential students or tours of inspection by local residents and visitors in the area.

BITS O' TALK

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Essenberg and children, Vern, James, Shelley and Douglas of Richboro, Pa. spent the last week at the home of Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson. Thursday evening, the Ron Larsons, Gerald Larsons, Essenegs and Ernest Larsons enjoyed a cook-out at Hartwick Pines. Before arriving in Grayling, the Essenegs, along with fifty-six young people and young adults held a workshop in construction and maintenance at the Annville, Ky. campus which their Addisville Church of Richboro, Pa. supports. They report a wonderful time and a valuable experience. The Essenegs left Friday morning for Grand Rapids to visit his family, the Julius Essenegs, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skinner and children, Craig and Kelly, of Redwood Falls, Minn. stopped over Thursday night to visit his mother, the Robert Browns. They will spend two weeks at Glen Lake before returning home. Ed was one of the lucky ones picked by Auto Owners to tour Europe in October.

Visiting the John Canfield family over the 4th of July weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hatch and children of Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. James McDougall and family of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Canfield and children of Roscommon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunham and family of Highland spent the 4th of July weekend visiting his mother, Mrs. Nina Dunham and Rhea.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brower and two daughters have moved here from St. Joseph and are living on M-72 East. Mrs. Brower is a sister of Mrs. Jim Stearns and her husband is working with Mr. Stearns in his well-drilling business.

Estes Honored by A.C. Spark Plug

Ralph H. Estes of McMaisters Bridge Rd., South Branch Township, although retired from AC Spark Plug Division since March 1, 1970, was honored officially on the evening of July 1 at the I. M. A. Annex in Flint. Over 200 of his long time co-workers and their wives gathered to honor him and his wife Stella in recognition of his 37 years service with AC Spark Plug division of General Motors Corp., an employer of over 13,000 employees. The last 20 years of Estes service was spent as Director of Industrial Relations.

Attending the gala event were his daughter, Mrs. Julie Staple; his sister, Mrs. Harold Mason of Flint; as well as retired Vice-president, Group Executive and former General Manager of AC, Joseph A. Anderson, now a resident of Higgins Lake; Martin J. Caserio, G.M. Vice President and General Manager of G.M. Truck and Coach Division, Pontiac, also a former General Manager of AC. Other guests included were Vice President Robert W. Decker, Manager of the Corporation Manufacturing Development section and former Works Manager of AC and General Manager of Saginaw Steering Gear Division and AC's present Works Manager, Philip S. Lang.

Estes career at AC included working under eight General Managers as Auditor, Employment Manager, and Supervisor of Labor Relations before assuming the position from which he retired. Estes succeeded Warren E. Milner as AC's Director of Industrial Relations. Milner is now a retired General Manager of Hyatt New Departure Division, Sandusky, Ohio, and was also in attendance.

His son, David R. Estes, a graduate student attending Concordia Seminary at Springfield, Ill. was unable to attend the affair.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q I just got my refund. Does that mean my return was OK?

A The fact that you have your refund means your return contained all the information required to process it. Later, you may be asked to verify the accuracy of an item on your return, but it is not IRS policy to hold up refunds until a decision on whether to examine a return is made.

As a rule, tax may be assessed anytime within three years from the date the return was due to be filed. For this reason, keep your records on your 1969 tax return for at least three years. Records on stock purchases, property acquisitions and the like should be kept longer.

Q Shouldn't my employer reduce my withholding now that I've had my 65th birthday?

A You are entitled to an extra exemption for age which will reduce your tax withholding. To make this change, fill out a new withholding certificate, Form W-4, and give it to your employer.

Even though you became 65 after the start of the tax year, you are entitled to the entire amount of the exemption allowed for age on your next tax return. Exemptions are not pro-rated.

Q Will profits from a sale of stock be taxed higher this year under the new law?

A The alternative capital gains tax has been increased. However, up to $50,000, ($25,000 for a married person filing a separate return), capital gains will be taxed at the same 25 percent alternative rate as they have in the past. Gains over $50,000 will be taxed at a 29 1/2 percent rate for 1970. In 1971, the alternative capital gains tax rate will go up to 32 1/2 percent. Capital gains will be taxed at an effective maximum rate of 35 percent in 1972.

Q Where can I get a copy of the new withholding rates that are effective July 1, 1970 so that I can adjust my payroll?

A The new withholding rates are in Circular E (Rev. June, 1970) which is being mailed to employers throughout the country. Extra copies may be obtained at your IRS district office.

Q What do you have to prove to deduct moving expenses?

A Two basic conditions must be met to qualify for moving expense deductions. First, your new place of employment must be 50 miles farther from your old home than your previous place of employment. To state this another way, you would meet this requirement if it would be 50 miles farther to go from your old home to your new job than it was before you changed jobs.

The other requirement is that you be a full-time employee at your new job for at least 39 weeks of the 12 months following your move. To meet these requirements it is not necessary to have your job before you move. They can be met by persons moving to look for work as well as those who are either transferred to a new location or accept a new job that requires them to move.

Q I greatly increased the value of my property this spring by putting in a number of ornamental, shade and fruit trees. Can I get tax credit for what I spent?

A Although these expenses cannot be deducted they can be capitalized and added to the cost basis of your property. Only those costs which increased the value of the property can be added, however. The expense of maintaining your home may not be deducted or capitalized.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMER

From Alfaretta Courtwright, Alvin, Tex.: I remember the hollyhocks. My mother taught me to make hollyhock ladies. The center was the head. Turn down the petals. Make a grass snail. There was your hollyhock lady.

We had double white hollyhocks. I remember the lady who taught me to make of them a casket spray when our sainted neighbor "Grandma Leeper" lay in state before her funeral.

We always had a buggyload of flowers for Decoration Day. I never rode on the float or carried a flag in the procession because I was not "a son of a veteran". I remember wondering what on earth that was.

I remember how we rode up cemetery hill decked in white. My mother had a big big hat decorated with red silk roses. I think it was called a Merry Widow hat. We had our traditional Decoration Day rain and went home with those red roses drizzled all over us.

For And About Teenagers

WE ONLY GET TO TALK TO EACH OTHER ON THE PHONE...

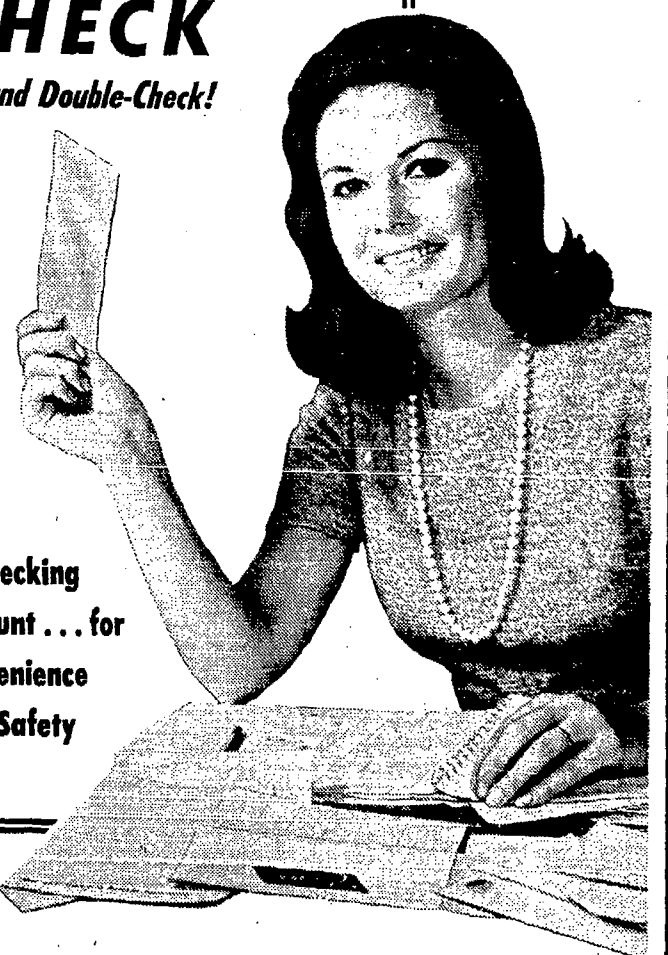

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "You may say my problem isn't serious, but I think it is. Please give me an answer. I am 11 years old and I like this girl. She says she likes me. She doesn't live close to me and we only get to talk to each other on the phone. On the phone, we have some pretty good conversations but when I see her, she seems to 'turn off', even when I just say hello. Please give me a straight answer."

OUR REPLY: There are several possibilities. The girl may be the type personally shy, yet ready with conversation on the telephone. She may want your telephone conversations to remain a secret between the two of you, and assume that you feel the same way. And, you may be just one of many boys who share her telephone hours. The telephone is a means of communication, true enough. But a person's telephone personality is not always that individual's personality: person-to-person. Unless, as we said, the girl is personally shy, you can get an indication of how she feels about you from your eye-to-eye encounters.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Men just don't understand women

By Jim Fitzgerald

And then I wrote . . .

A familiar answer was received when I asked Anne how come she cried when my wife had a sore throat.

"You just don't understand women," she said.

So true.

My wife, Pat, had a rusty throat last week and when she talked it sounded like a screen door being opened for the first time in 50 years. Anne told Pat that she couldn't converse with her at any great length because her (Pat's) scratchy voice made her (Anne's) eyes water.

This incredible empathy didn't surprise Pat. It's no wonder. She cries when she sees the beams of huge searchlights sweep across the sky because gas station is having a grand opening and she is touched by the meaningfulness of the occasion.

I have heard tales of husbands having sympathy pains when their wives were pregnant, but I have never actually known a man who has experienced this phenomenon. Myself, I didn't feel a thing until months later when Blue Cross rates went up. Therefore, I remain dubious about Jack gagging when Jill is choked. But there was no arguing with Anne; those were wet, real tears in her eyes.

I asked how such a thing could be and that's when I got the standard you-just-don't-understand-women answer.

There is no reasonable retort an honest man can make when faced with this declaration of feminine omnipotence. A man can know a woman so well he can safely predict her reaction to a given situation — she will always prefer a restaurant 15 miles back, for instance. But he can never understand how, while passing it at 60 mph, she can be absolutely certain the skipped restaurant served better food than is offered at the crummy dive where her stupid husband stopped. She even knows there is soap and clean towels in the rest room 15 miles back, and she has never poked her smart nose inside the place.

If you ask her how she knows such things, she'll tell you it's because there was a cute baby sitting in a car parked in front of the restaurant. And if you get frustrated enough to drive 15 miles just to prove she is wrong, you'll find out she is right.

So what man could understand?

Take our dog, and someone did. We gave it away. This Monster Dog did nothing except bark and chase cars and it plainly needed a home in the country.

Except at the actual time of delivery, there were few Fitz tears shed over the departure of Monster Dog. It was generally agreed, after considerable brainwashing by Old Dad, that big dogs do not belong in the city. Even softhearted Pat went along with the giveaway. "No more Monster Dogs for us," she vowed, looking at the table leg Monster Dog had chewed in half. But as I type these words there is another Monster Dog on our back porch. It has been there several days. No one knows where it came from. I know where it is going — nowhere. My wife and children are feeding it.

"If you feed that mutt, it will never go back where it came from," I said with usual male logic, all brilliant.

"It's hungry," my wife said, "where's your heart?"

"Yeah, yeah, yeah," said the kids who will feed that dog faithfully until I say it can stay and then they will never feed it again, I will.

"But you said you'd never own another big dog," I whimpered.

"This is different," Pat said with usual female logic, all dense.

Don't ask me to explain this. The only thing different about this brown and white collie is its bark — it's hoarse.

Which brings us back to Anne and her empathy. She may be credible, after all, because every time that lousy dog barks, I cry. †

Are you paying more than 11¢ a gallon for your home's heating oil?

If you are, you can heat your home for less with Gas.

If you are now using natural Gas (or plan to) for cooking, water heating, clothes drying or Gaslights, and your use is equal to that of our average residential nonheating customer, read on. You can get your Gas for heating under our special service rate at a price equal to fuel oil costing 11¢ a gallon. Whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we will pay for it and its installation by a participating Gas-heating contractor. Repayment can be made on your Gas bill.

We'll buy the oil that's in your tank at the price you paid for it. We'll remove the tank from your home at no cost to you, and we'll even haul it away if you want.

Convert to thrifty natural Gas today and cut your heating bills up to one-third. Call us today for the name of a participating Gas heating contractor for full details.

FIRST FIFTY YEARS TOUGHER THAN NEXT FOUR

"This is the '50-plus-four-equal-100' birthday for Auto-Owners," according to Ralph Moulton, president of the $100 million insurance firm. While cutting the 54th birthday cake shaped like its expanded Lansing headquarters building for the firm's 900 employees, it was noted that it took the firm 50 years to hit the $50 million level and only four years more to reach the $100 million premium level. Auto-Owners is now the 7th largest mutual writer of automobile insurance in the country even though it markets insurance in just 15 states. Five years ago Auto-Owners expanded into life insurance.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

The Devil and Idle Hands

A quite substantial number of people today shake their heads in disapproval of a great deal of current teenage "goings on." Yet, in all fairness, it can be said with some validity that today's teenagers are what the Congress made them.

There is an old folklore saying that goes "The Devil makes work for idle hands."

And if anything created idle hands, it has been the enactment into law of the minimum wage laws which deprived teenagers of work opportunity.

Surveys by the National Federation of Independent Business, carried on in depth, established, beyond any doubt that the last raise in the minimum wage closed job opportunities for hundreds of thousands of teenagers. This was charted from the actual reports from over 200,000 independent business firms who have quit hiring teenagers.

Subsequently, after much pondering, delay, indecision, the Department of Labor came out with a report based on a study made by it, and after cutting through all the obfuscating language employed, the fact stood out that they found the minimum wage law had closed opportunities for teenagers.

Even more surprising is the fact that in view of all the evidence, the Congress, since the death of Senator Everett Dirksen, has made no move to rescind the law.

If the situation, of course, it is recognized that the union labor barons are opposed to any relaxation on the basis that teenagers, working for less than the minimum wage, would replace adult workers.

This has never been proved, and despite the fact that this summer is witnessing the biggest supply of idle teenagers in history, the fact they are not working has not been reflected by more adult jobs opening.

Unrecognized, or unknown in Washington, where word of what goes on in the rest of the country seldom gets through, is that for years the nation's independent businessmen had been in the habit of making jobs for teenagers as fulfillment of an obligation they felt to society, or the future of the nation. But when bureaucrats started telling them what to do, and how to do it, they quit doing anything in this area.

After all, there are thousands of teenagers to whom the pay is not the most important thing. They are more concerned over doing something, and learning how to do things.

Even some states contribute to the current insanity. In some states a teenager cannot work as a swimmer on a beach, because it is considered a hazardous occupation. Yet in some of these states a sixteen year old, with parents' consent can get a license to go tearing down the highways driving a 400 horsepower "hot rod."

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

"If I were 21, I would urge that room be made for my generation in the exciting and challenging world of business. If I were 21, I would have faith that business would not let me down and I would face the future with optimism. An optimism built on faith in a system which has met and solved every problem which it has confronted. I would be eager to tackle my opportunities as a problem solver in this system."

—W. W. Keeler, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Phillips Petroleum Company

A parade was enjoyed in the afternoon and a delicious banquet at the St. Francis Gym, served by the young people of that school. They also attended a reception honoring Mr. Fox at The Holiday Inn, where he received money, gifts and rewards.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Douglas were hosts to a birthday dinner on Sunday, July 5, in honor of Miss Margaret Husted, who was 98 years old. Margaret, who resides at McReynolds Hall in Gaylord, was driven here by her niece, Miss Margaret Douglas. There were about 14 relatives present for the occasion, and all enjoyed a rose topped birthday cake, which was made by Miss Margaret Douglas.

Forest Product Tour Slated

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

Land owners who want to realize more from the forest product growing on their property can get ideas on a tour Saturday, July 11. The tour will start at 1:00 p.m. and is located two miles east of junction M-72 and M-65 southeast of Curran.

Michigan Department of Natural Resources personnel will be on the tour to discuss methods that may work on your land. Also Soil Conservation Service, Cooperative Extension Service and Abitibi Corporation will be conducting part of the tour.

The tour is sponsored by David Olson, County Extension Director, Oscoda County and Abitibi Corporation.
